

History, Culture, Events, But Most Of All...Friendship

Amy McGregor

Discover the British Spanish Society's latest membership campaign, brought to you by those who know it best: our members

It's an exciting time to be part of the British Spanish Society. Despite the challenges faced over the last year, our commitment as a charity to friendship and building bridges between our two countries has flourished, and, thanks to the dedication of our volunteers (and a little help from Zoom), we have found ways to navigate through these turbulent times and come out stronger than ever.

Now we are looking to grow our membership in the UK and Spain through a fun and insightful campaign that will be shared across all our social media pages and website.

Voices, as the campaign is entitled, is a series of video interviews with members of all ages and walks of life, who share with us how they came to hear about the British Spanish Society and what it is they love most about being a part of our organisation.

When it comes to Voices, variety is certainly the order of the day. From virtuoso violinists to wine connoisseurs, this campaign celebrates the diverse backgrounds, unique interests, and of course, exceptional talents of our members. But despite their differences, they share one important thing:

a passion for bringing the people of Britain and Spain closer together. This, after all, is the very essence of our society.

Whether you're a student, professional, or just someone with an interest in all things British-Spanish-related, the Voices campaign makes clear that no matter who you are or where you're from, the British Spanish Society is an enthusiastic and fun-loving group of people who are looking forward to welcoming many new faces this year.

The first video of our exciting new Voices campaign can be viewed from 6th April on all our social media pages or on britishspanishsociety.org

We would also like to extend a special thank you to Dani Fernández for his vital support on this project.

Note on the author:

Amy McGregor is a member of the BSS's communications team and Project Manager of the Voices campaign.

How you can help

If you know of anyone who may be interested in joining our wonderful organisation, please feel free to forward, share or comment on any of the videos, or email us at info@britishspanishsociety.org

Follow us:

